Welcome to herkey

It's not easy being a woman who wants to build her career. The challenges are many, opportunities are few, and the ceiling too limiting. We are here to change that.

We seek to be the dependable companion for every woman on her career journey, enabling her growth, opening up opportunities, creating meaningful engagement, and facilitating her career journey “onwards & upwards.”

Companies in India face a leaky talent pipeline. They start with 26% women at the entry level, which drops to 13% for senior level and then 10% at the CXO level. We are here to change that.

Through HerKey, companies can recruit, retain and promote female talent by providing the required opportunities, learning and communities “all customized to women's needs. Build career engagement for women candidates “inside and outside your organization “so that you can be part of their career growth journey.

Gap

There is one core truth that holds good for every single woman from our large pool of 4.5M+ candidates.

Engagement fuels career growth. And there is a huge void when it comes to meaningful career engagement for women. That is the void we seek to bridge.

HerKey is the place where women can engage with employers, mentors, experts and each other to fuel their career growth and empower their lives.

So how do we do it?

We are 85% women in our company. And the rest 15% wouldn't want it any other way.

The culture at HerKey is one of high accountability & expectations, coupled with unprecedented flexibility and support.

Unlike the rest of the world, we didn't need a pandemic to teach us about work-life balance. It's the way of life here at HerKey.

If we had the space, we would put every last one of us here. For now, meet our core team.
